Zhi Gan Cao Honey-Fried Radix Glycyrrhizae Uralensis 6g

Zhi Gan Cao harmonizes the ingredients of the formula and its sweet flavor reduces acute symptoms.

RESOLUTION:

He took the formula for three days which resolved the acute phase of his asthma. He continued to take the modified Shan Zhu Yu formula for six months and he reported that he did not experience any asthma symptoms the following spring.

50. Use of Shan Zhu Yu to treat asthma (deficiency type), Case B

An 87 year old female has had asthma for 35 years. Her symptoms include: shortness of breath, chicken singing in the throat and dry mouth. The asthma is most severe in cold weather and she becomes faint and also loses consciousness occasionally. Her tongue is purple with a dry, dark, thick coating. Her pulse is floating and weak. “Chicken singing in the throat” is a classic Chinese medicine description for throat disharmonies that cause a chicken-like wheezing and choking sound.

DIAGNOSIS:

- Lung and Kidney Qi deficiency
- Qi and blood stagnation

TREATMENT PLAN:

Stabilize and strengthen Kidney and Lung Qi

FORMULA:

Shan Zhu Yu modification

First, 60g of Shan Zhu Yu (Fructus corni Officinalis) was used to strengthen the Kidneys and stabilize the Lungs. The single herb was prepared in 2 cups of water boiled down to 1/4 cup. She was instructed to sip the tea and ½ hour later, her asthma is less severe and she was able to open her eyes.

Next, we added the following herbs to her formula:

Tai Zi Shen	Pseudostellariae Radix	6g
Dang Shen	Radix Codonopsis Pilosulae	12g

Tai Zi Shen mildly strengthens Qi and nourishes Yin and dryness. Dang Shen strengthens Middle Jiao Qi.

Long Gu	Os Draconis	30g
---------	--------------------	-----

Long Gu stabilizes and astringes the Kidney and Lung Qi.

Bai Shao	Radix Peoniae Lactiflorae	18g
Di Gu Pi	Cortex Lycii Radicis	12g

Bai Shao stabilizes Liver Yang and harmonizes the Ying and Wei of the Lungs and Kidneys. Di Gu Pi nourishes Lung and Kidney Yin and eliminates deficiency heat.

Zi Su Zi	Perillae Frutescentis, Fructus	9g
